

The 3rd Workshop of Writing Scientific Research Articles in Natural Sciences

Again, the Department of Biology organize the 3rd Workshop in Writing Scientific Research Articles in Natural Sciences for International Journals (26/8). The speaker of workshop is Dr Margaret Cargill from Adelaide University. Dr. Margaret Cargill and Dr. Patrick O'Connor are Authors of the famous "Writing Scientific Research Article" book published by Wiley-Blackwell. This year workshop take place at new home of the department and participated by the department graduate student. Dr Triadiati and Dr Nampiah also took a part in the workshop as trainer.

One of the participant, Masrukhin, said that He think the workshop is great and learned so much about scientific articles he didn't know previously. Moreover, It was a good chance for the student to improve writing skill. Other participant, Oktan, said that the workshop was useful and he got new information about writing a good scientific paper from her.

One of the participant, Masrukhin, said that He think the workshop is great and learned so much about scientific articles he didn't know previously. Moreover, It was a good chance for the student to improve writing skill.

Oktan said that the workshop was useful and he got new information about writing a good scientific paper from her.