

Student Training in Public Speaking

Department of Biology under students and alumni commission, Windra Priawandiputra Ph.D., held a soft skill training entitled “Creative Public Speaking” for 18 biology students on August 29th, 2018. The training started from 13:00 until 15:00 (one and a half hours) in RK BIO 1.01.

Dr. Emilia Bassar, M.Si, from Center for Public Relations, Outreach, and Communication (CPROCUM) was invited as the speaker in this training. She is an expert on communication and public relation. She delivered materials very well by involving all students to be active. The materials consisted of preparation and the important points of public speaking. The students bravely spoke and shared their opinions and mind in the training. They said that the training is useful and important to embrace their speaking ability in front of many audiences.
